

ERRATA

Astronomy

- AST 201H1 Exclusion should include AST 210H1
 AST 210H1 Exclusion should include AST 201H1

Chemistry

- CHM 326H1 Prerequisite should include CHM 225Y1 (or [CHM 220H1, 221H1]/222Y1 with permission of Department), MAT 235Y1/237Y1
 CHM 328H1 Prerequisite should include CHM 225Y1 (or [CHM 220H1, 221H1]/222Y1 with permission of Department), MAT 235Y1/237Y1

Commerce

- MGT 220H1 Prerequisite should read "at least C in MGT 120H1"

Economics

- ECO 370Y1 Prerequisite should read "ECO 200Y1/206Y1; ECO 220Y1/227Y1/STA(250H1, 255H1)/(257H1, 261H1)"

German

- GER 461Y1 Should be GER 462H1

History

- HIS 491Y1 Should be HIS 491H1
 HIS 418Y1 Should be HIS 418H1

History & Philosophy of Science

- HPS 250H1 is NOT applicable to all History of Science and Technology Programs (specialist, major, minor)

Innis College

- Environmental Studies Courses
 JIE 222Y1 Prerequisite should read "four full course equivalents; a minimum CGPA of 2.0/permission of instructor"

Nutritional Sciences

- Nutritional Sciences Specialist Program
 "Third Year" should read "BCH 370H1/371H1; JLM 349H1, NFS 382H1, 386H1, PSL 302Y1"
 Nutritional Sciences Courses
 NFS 382H1 Prerequisite should read "BIO 150Y1; CHM 138H1, 139H1/151Y1; PHY 138Y1 (or 110Y1/140Y1), NFS 284Y1"
 NFS 386H1 Prerequisite should read "NFS 284H1"
 Co-requisite should read "BCH 210H1, JLM 349H1"
 NFS 484H1 Prerequisite should read "(BCH 210H, JLM 349H1), NFS 284H1, PSL 302Y1, STA (220H1, 221H1)/JBS 229H1)"
 NFS 486H1 Prerequisite should read "(BCH 210H, JLM 349H1), NFS 284H1, PSL 302Y1, STA (220H1, 221H1)/JBS 229H1)"

Political Science

- POL 330Y1 Should be POL 330H1
 POL 424Y1 Should be POL 424H1

ADDITIONS

Anthropology

- ANT 480Y1 Special Topics in Anthropological Research

Fine Art

- FAH 453H1 Introduction to Conservation
 The aim of the course is to give the students a basic understanding of the field of conservation. To accomplish this, we present an overview of the field covering material composition, identification, deterioration, conservation theory, and preventative techniques. Taught by ROM conservators at the ROM, AGO and Lehigh University.

German

- GER 462H1 Advanced Yiddish
 Advanced reading, writing, vocabulary and conversation. Study of poetry, short fiction, press, and memoir literature by Zeitlin, Bergelson, Gladshteyn, Sholem Aleichem and I. I. Singer. Selected advanced grammatical topics presented in conjunction with the study of texts. Conducted entirely in Yiddish.
 Prerequisite: GER 360H1/Y1 or permission of instructor

History

- HIS 345H1 History and Film
 This course is designed to further students' knowledge of films' relationship to the events they depict and their undeniable power as representational systems to render history effectively. This will necessarily entail both close examination of the formal systems film rely upon and an understanding of the distinction between fictional and non-fictional forms in film.

HIS 418H1 Women in Imperial Russia
Students explore the changing roles of women of various social classes in Imperial Russian history through an examination of their domestic and public lives. Themes include: the importance of 18th century female rule, the women question, reform of family and property law, female radicalism and impact of industrialization.
Exclusion: HIS 418Y1
Prerequisite: A course in Russian history/permission of instructor

HIS 491H1 Nationalism in India Before and After Independence
The history of nationalism in India as it has developed out of the competing images and realities of national identity in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. (Joint undergraduate-graduate)
Exclusion: HIS 491Y1
Prerequisite: HIS 282Y1/permission of instructor

Human Biology

HMB 300H1 Human Behavioural Biology II
New intermediate course for the Specialist Program in Human Behavioural Biology. Consult <<http://hmb.utoronto.ca/hmb300h>> for more information.

Joint Courses

JUP 450H1 Advanced Topics in Cognitive Science
An advanced seminar in cognitive science; topics include object perception, intention, & planning, problem-solving & creativity, distributed cognition, emotions, cognitive poetics.
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Cognitive Science/ Cognitive Science & Artificial Intelligence program/permission of instructor

Near & Middle Eastern Civilizations

NMC 352Y1 Faith and Doubt in Modern Hebrew Poetry
An exploration of the relationship of Modern Hebrew poetry to the Jewish religious tradition.

NMC 355Y1 The Hebrew Bible in Translation
A survey of the various themes, ideas, and features of the Hebrew Bible and the world that gave rise to it.

Political Science

POL 401H1 Dynamics of the Global Trade System
This course addresses the global trading system by examining the political, economic, legal and institutional forces that shape today's contemporary international system.
Prerequisite: Minimum 14 FCEs
Recommended preparation: Some international economics and Canadian political economy.

POL 421H1 Maimonides and His Modern Interpreters
The course offers an introduction to the seminal work of Jewish philosophy, 'The Guide of the Perplexed' by Moses Maimonides.
Prerequisite: Minimum 14 FCEs

Psychology

PSY 335H1 Environmental Psychology
An examination of the interrelationship of humans and their natural and built environments. Topics include: the self in relation to nature; environmental quality and psychological well-being; and the relationship between individuals' experience (i.e., cognition, emotions, and values), motivations and action relating to environmental issues
Prerequisite: PSY 201H1, 220H1

PSY 336H1 Positive Psychology
A review of the field of positive psychology, which is the study of fulfilment and personal growth. The focus is on empirical research regarding the development of healthy, productive, and resilient individuals. Topics include: subjective well-being, optimism, flow experiences, self-control and emotional intelligence, social support and empathy
Prerequisite: PSY 201H1, 230H1/240H1

Spanish

SPA 341H1 Modernist Movements in Spain
Literary and artistic movements in Spain from 1890 to 1940, with special attention to the convergence and mutual mediation of politics and art. Materials to be studied include novels, poetry, the urban movement, graphic art, literary journals and manifestos, and some early Hispanic film.
Prerequisite: SPA 220Y1/319H1
Recommended preparation: SPA 258H1

SPA 488H1 New Narrative Fiction of Central America
An introduction to narrative fiction of the 1960s and 1970s from Central America, through selected readings of novels and short stories by representative writers
Prerequisite: SPA 220Y1/319H1
Recommended preparation: SPA 258H1

University College Courses

UNI 375H1 Special Topics in Sexual Diversity Studies
Prerequisite: UNI 255H1/permission of the instructor